Dylewski ARKTAN is arctangent coordinate graph paper available as $8\frac{1}{2} \times 11$ in. tracing paper at \$1.00 per package of 20 sheets from Orbit Electric Co., 2710 N. Menard Ave., Chicago 39. Available at no charge are samples of the paper and a bulletin describing the paper's use for curve plotting in scientific, mathematical, engineering or statistical analysis. There are two forms: No. 1235 has one arctangent scale and one linear scale; No. 1236 (a portion of which is illustrated below) has double arctangent coordinates.

Erratum

The Utiliscope, the closed-circuit television system that was described in the July 1951 Journal, is made by the Diamond Power Specialty Corp. in Lancaster, Ohio, not in Lancaster, Pennsylvania, as erroneously cited in the Journal. This is the industrial television system that has been receiving a good deal of attention in the press because of the wide variety of applications reported, including use in motion picture production.
