The 124th SMPTE Conference and Equipment Exhibit, the only conference and exhibit of its kind, will continue to give you the latest in technical information by way of its five days of concurrent papers sessions and its three-day exhibit of the latest equipment that the motion picture and television industries have to offer. More than 400 booths will be occupied by 130 or more companies. The exhibit will be open from Tuesday morning through Thursday evening.

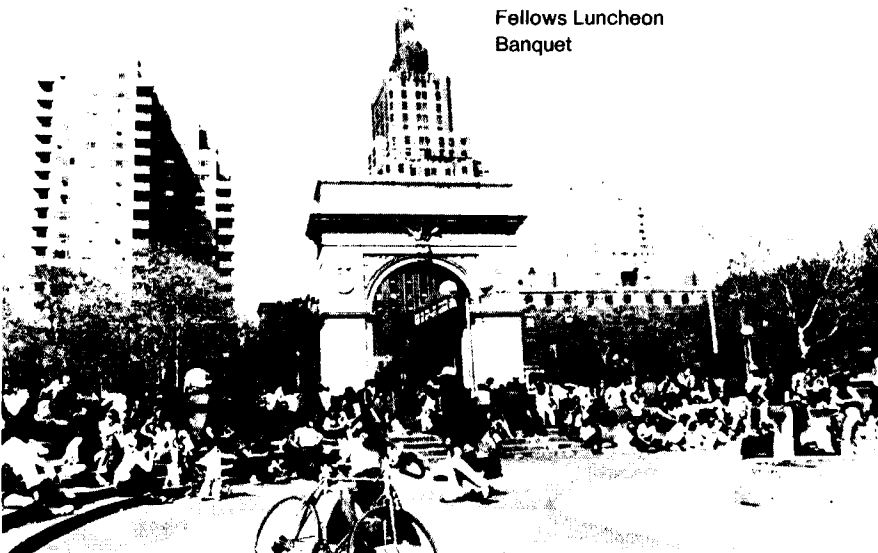

In addition to the papers and exhibit, the conference will feature a morning coffee club, a welcome reception for registrants, an Honors and Awards Luncheon, a Fellows Luncheon, and a complete program for spouses.

To take advantage of the reduced advance rates, send in your registration before October 7th. Forms were sent to all members in August. The following rates have been set:

Association of Cinema & Video Laboratories, Inc.

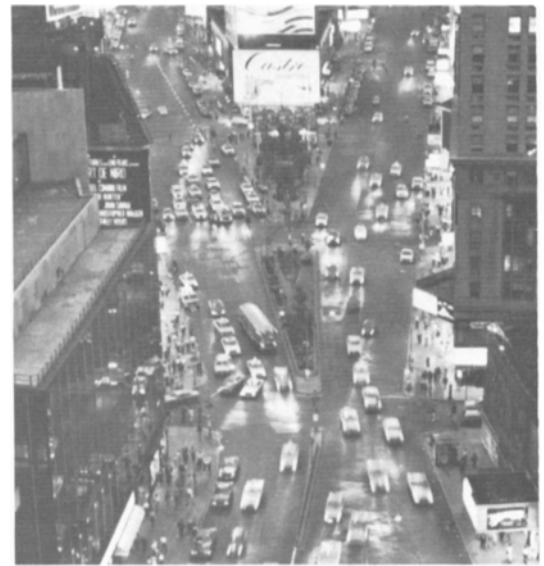

ACVL will meet at New York Hilton on Friday and Saturday, November 5-6, 1982. On Friday, there will be a Board of Directors meeting followed by a reception-dinner for Laboratory and Associate member principals.

On Saturday the all-day meeting begins with a business meeting of Laboratory members at 8:30 a.m. The Laboratory Equipment and Techniques Forum starts at 9:30 a.m., with a break at noon for lunch, and will conclude at 5 p.m. Papers presented at the Forum will feature topics and equipment of interest to the motion-picture and video tape laboratories and their customers.

The registration desk will open at 8 a.m. Saturday for ACVL members and non-members who did not register in advance. Registration fees at the meeting for ACVL members is $30.00, and for non-members $40.00 each. SMPTE members are invited to register and attend the Forum.

SMPTE members who are pre-registered for the SMPTE Conference can pick up their materials on Saturday, November 6, next to the ACVL Registration desk.

PROGRESS REPORT

The Progress Report is a specified part of the Society's activities published annually in May intended to report worldwide developments in the motion picture, television, and photonic industries, and to record progress in the educational field. In a decade of phenomenal technological progress, achievement, change, and innovation, the report is now a major undertaking. Despite the scope of the task, it has consistently achieved a high standard, and its benefit to the membership is endorsed every year by an enthusiastic response.

The Chairman of the 1982 Progress Committee will be Robert M. Smith (Past President). The Affairs Vice-Presidents and the Progress Committee will all assume their established roles.

Significant developments with worldwide impact are taking place in our engineering committees. Engineering Vice-President Roland J. Zavada will coordinate these important events for publication as a new feature in the 1982 report.

To be as topical as possible, in these times of rapid technological achievements, plans are to publish the report in the future as close as possible to the year's end. Moving in this direction, the 1982 report will be in the April issue. In an effort to insure the report is as comprehensive as possible, you are requested as members to participate. This year's May issue will act as a guide for your contribution. Black-and-white glossy photographs may serve to illustrate your material. Close-up photographs enhance presentation. Please submit your reports without delay to Rae Hargrave, SMPTE, 862 Scarsdale Avenue, Scarsdale, New York 10583. The deadline for material is November 19, 1982. To assist in the preliminary selection, the cooperation of the Chairman of the Board of Editors, Calvin M. Hotchkiss, and the Board of Editors will be sought. Rae Hargrave, Senior Writer, will be responsible for organizing, coordinating, and editing the 1982 report.

I am optimistic that with contributions from the membership, and the support and effort of everyone involved, we will publish a Progress Report that will be of mutual benefit to us all. — Maurice L. French,

Editorial Vice-President
