Television Technology in Transition

Television technology is continuing to change rapidly as new equipment, new techniques, and new applications come into being. SMPTE's new book, Television Technology in Transition, addresses itself to these changes in the categories of Formats; Distribution and Processing; Planning and Maintaining Systems; and Post-Production. All papers appearing in the book were presented at the 22nd Annual SMPTE Television Conference held in Nashville, Tenn., January 29-30, 1988. The papers were presented by a group of well-known and distinguished authors on subjects of particular interest and significant importance to today's television engineers and broadcast executives.
